The Many Shades Of . . .

The Bethanian * Volume 95

Bethany College * Bethany, WV 26032

BETHANY

Bethany sits on a lonely hill and is comprised of many shades. In the fall the leaves turn majestic shades and give the campus a dignity all of its own. Like the leaves, all aspects of this college community come together to form a beautiful picture. Thus begins The Many Shades of Bethany . . .

 dressed in sweatshirts that show their school spirit.

BETHANY

Fall was a time for new beginnings. Fall at Bethany saw the men's soccer team go all the way to the national quarterfinals before losing to Glassboro. With winter came the first snow carnival in two years and a war in the Gulf. Spring brought commencement and an ending to the Many Shades of Bethany.

Although this winter scene seems quiet and peaceful, it was during this time that students had to deal with the war in their own way.

Fans came out to show their support and followed the soccer team all the way to the national quarterfinals.

Two men from Morlan enjoy a spring afternoon with a frisbee game.

Celebrating another soccer victory seems to be easy for this group and they aren't afraid to show it.

EVENTS

Perhaps the real color scheme behind the many shades of Bethany lies in the many things we did together. From Homecoming to Spring Weekend, the year was filled with events to make this a year to remember. Each event, whether a dance, concert or special day left an unerasable mark of a sacred memory that helped to complete our picture of what Bethany really was.

New Beginnings

Going away to college for the first time was undoubtedly a frightening and confusing experience. However, a valent effort was made to ease this year's freshman into college life.

During freshman orientation, many activities were planned to help the freshman get to know each other and get used to the campus. Various picnics and banquets were scheduled and the freshman were invited to have dessert with President and Mrs. Cummins at Pendleton Heights.

A tour of the town of Bethany and the campus was given to inform the freshman of Bethany's rich history. They were also introduced to the faculty and Bethany's alma mater at a convocation.

On the lighter side, a dance was held in The Barn and the Freshman Olympics took place at the swimming pool. Freshman Orientation was a very helpful experience for all students facing the worry and excitement of college.

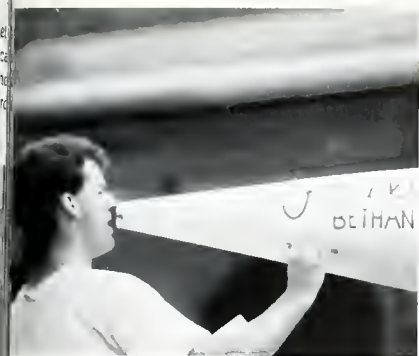

These four freshmen are all smiles after meeting each other on their first day. Jessica Ghenne, Nicole Mazur, Jeannie Lindop and Kathleen Costlow were all members of third floor Phillips.

The campus came alive as the upperclassmen returned to register. This was when many freshmen realized that they were really "in college."

Freshmen Christine Hopkins and Cindy Roush look at the first pieces of mail from home. Contact with home helped make freshmen's transition to college life easier.

Displaying the symbol of the winning cheer is sophomore resident assistant Casey Swaney. Swaney and Jennifer Thompson's hall took first place in the contest.

The women of Phillips second floor trample another hallmate to show their Bethany pride.

These freshmen show that you don't have to be a Bethanian for very long to catch the spirit. Most of the groups participating in the Bison Blastoff were freshmen halls.

Bison Blastoff

One could barely hear the speakers, due to the tremendous cheering of the crowd at the annual Bison Blast-Off. The event marked the beginning of the 1990 homecoming weekend.

The Bison cheerleaders showed their spirit while performing their pep-filled routine. Another attraction was the cheering contest between housing units. Resident Assistants, Casey Swaney and Jennifer Thompson led their halls to capture the victory. The judging panel consisted of President Cummins, his wife Suzi, and celebrity Tom Poston.

A picnic lunch was served and students had the opportunity to mingle and spend time with their friends. The Bison Blast-off was a good way to begin the homecoming spirit and instill Bison pride in everyone.

The sisters of Phi Mu show their Bethany pride in the 1990 Balloon Ascension. This fundraiser is held every year at the Homecoming game.

Homecoming

Homecoming was a very special time this year. Many alumni returned to celebrate the weekend with the theme of "There's No Place Like Home."

The weekend was kicked off by the return of one of Bethany's finest, Tom Poston, class of '43, most recently seen on the Newhart show. While on campus, Mr. Poston received an honorary Doctor of Letters degree at the formal convocation.

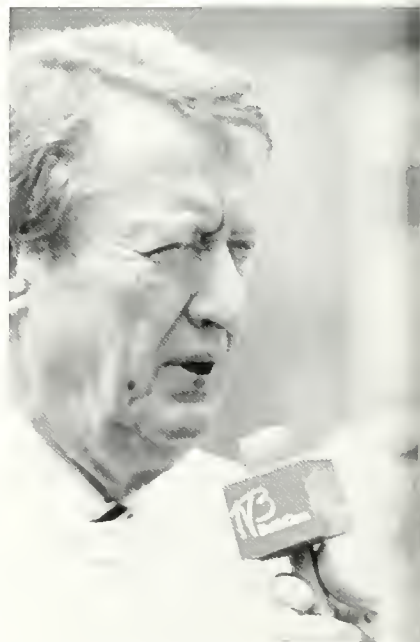

Bertice Berry, comedienne, and Gene Cotton, musician, performed at the Homecoming Cabaret Concert. Mr. Poston also showed clips of his favorite bloopers that occurred on the set of Newhart. Berry and Cotton are two old favorites of Bethany and once again they both gave excellent performances.

Saturday was busy as well. It began with the dedication of the Hummell field House, named in honor of the groundskeepers, Lawrence "Larry" Hummel, who bequeathed nearly one million dollars to the college upon his death in 1988.

Of course there was the traditional Homecoming football game. The game was against Duquesne University and during halftime the Homecoming Court was presented. Members were; Seniors Kim Deely, Jodi Diamond, Denise Doster, Jennifer Hodgdon, and Joanne Jacobs. Hodgdon was crowned queen and she presided over the evening's dance.

The Homecoming Dance was held in the Odgen Room and the Benny Benack orchestra regaled the campus with some tunes from the big band era. The dance was the finale to another great Homecoming in the history of Bethany.

Bethany alum Tom Poston becomes nostalgic in a TV3 interview. Poston spent his Homecoming weekend at Bethany in the campus lime-light.

1990 Homecoming Queen, Jennifer Hodgdon and her escort Shawn Thompson are all smiles after the crowning.

Parent's Weekend

All parents of Bethany students were invited to visit the campus on the weekend of October 26-28. The administration planned a variety of activities to entertain parents during their stay.

Friday evening, comedian Jordan Brady performed in Renner Too. Saturday offered various sporting events, such as a football and soccer game and also a volleyball match. Saturday evening, however was the featured event for the weekend. First the annual Greek Sing was presented and later the parents could attend the Talent Show sponsored by the Freshman Activities Council which was held in Wailes Theater. A diverse group of talents were displayed, ranging from musical presentations to comic performances.

Parent's Weekend gave parents a chance to experience a small part of what being a Bethanian is all about.

The sisters of Kappa Delta make their way through the crowd after their performance at the annual Greek Sing. Commencement Hall was filled to overflowing at the annual Greek Sing.

Students and parents alike were given a chance to support the Bisons at various sporting events during Parent's Weekend.

Preparing for his debut as a woman, sophomore, Jeff Clair rehearses in the Phi Tau lounge. The annual talent show, sponsored by FAC was on Saturday during Parent's Weekend.

Once again the brothers of Alpha Sigma Phi stole the crowd's hearts and took top honors for fraternities with their songs of laughter at Greek Sing.

The women of Zeta Tau Alpha join their voices in song after practicing many weeks for this annual event.

Just before breaking into song, the brothers of Sigma Nu drop their pants to show off their boxers and entertain the crowd at Greek Sing.

Greek Sing

Melodic phrases filled commencement Hall during Parent's Weekend's annual Greek Sing. The hall was overflowing with parents and students alike who came to hear nine greek organizations perform.

Alpha Xi Delta, Alpha Sigma Phi, Beta Theta Pi, Delta Tau Delta, Kappa Alpha, Kappa Delta, Phi Mu, Sigma Nu, and Zeta Tau Alpha all came and performed songs that they had been practicing for weeks. Selections at the sing ranged from soft religious harmonies to contemporary pop tunes to childhood melodies. Each fraternity and sorority presented their own image, not only in their songs but also in their style.

The brothers of Alpha Sigma Phi and the sisters of Alpha Xi Delta were chosen as the winners. The Alpha Sigs performed their own version of Old McDonald and the Alpha Xi's sang a stunning rendition of The Lion Sleeps Tonight.

The new Delt pledge class anxiously await their first travel to the Delt house as new soon-to-be brothers.

Bid Day

After what seemed to be two weeks full of parties and new faces, all freshmen interested in pledging a Greek house sat on pins and needles throughout their classes, dinner, and getting ready to go to their respective places where they were to pick up their bids. Things at the Greek houses were not much better as the brothers and sisters rushed around to get their house ready for the celebration that was to follow that night.

At 7:00 the women went to Steinman and the men went to Richardson, for the hour of reckoning had arrived. By 7:30 all bids were passed out and the new Greek women made the traditional run up Cardiac Hill. A new rule was introduced this year because there was to be no mixers until midnight on bid night. So at midnight the campus started jumping again this time with all Greek housing units joining in.

This day was a beginning of Greek life for many and those who were already active were given a chance to remember how it was when they were just beginning and realize once again just how special Greek life is.

On their way to meet their last pledge class is senior Kappa Deltas Christina Zombek and Jennie Stinchcomb. Bid Day proved to be a special day for everyone involved.

Phi Tau brothers Joe Bernard and Sascha Boyle surround their new brothers Aaron Hunt and Geoff Tuckerman. Bid night festivities allowed brothers to get to know their pledges better and vice versa.

Freshman Melissa Mort passes time by watching TV until she picks up her bid. Bid Day was a stressful time for all freshman involved.

Greek women anxiously watch to see if their pledges have begun to make the traditional run up cardiac.

Founder's Day

On March 1, 1991, the Founder's Day Convocation was held in Commencement Hall to celebrate the 151st anniversary of the grant of a charter to Bethany College. Many important and exciting things happened at this event: Karl Pittenger and Janice Graf were installed as SBOG President and Vice President, Old Main was designated as a National Historic Landmark, and Dr. Larry Grimes was presented with the Teaching Excellence and Campus Leadership Award.

In addition, a new college history was written and the first copy was presented. The account is entitled "Bethany: The First 150 Years" and was written by Lester G. McAllister. Also, the speech given by Mr. John Naisbitt was most inspiring; he predicted a turn from activities to the world of art and literature. This program was very exciting to all those involved in the Bethany College Community.

President Duane Cummins uncovers the plaque declaring Old Main as a National Landmark. A representative from the National Park Service was here to present the plaque.

Senior Melissa Fix listens intently to the speaker's words at Founder's Day Festivities. All seniors were required to participate in the convocation activities.

Mr. John Naisbitt delivers an inspiring speech in which he predicted a change in the role of education for the future.

In the early hours of the morning Old Main sits majestically on a snow covered campus. This snow later melted away before most of the festivities had begun.

Alana Lochner and Sean Diven brave the storm to make a "barn run". Most of the snow fun took place on Wednesday night.

Word of the snow carnival was spread by placing signs up in all the housing units. This is but one example.

Snow Carnival

Snow began falling at two o'clock in the afternoon on March 13th and as soon as the campus was covered in a light layer of snow, shouts of "Snow Carnival tomorrow" could be heard throughout the campus. As the day progressed, everyone knew that the chances for the carnival were pretty good. So good in fact, it was reported that there were snow ball fights and sleigh (or rather tray) riding until four in the morning.

Sure enough the next morning a snow carnival was declared. Festivities began around noon with snow sculpture contests followed by snow football, the only problem was by this time all the snow had melted. This problem did in no way interfere with the spirit of the day. Later that evening Sophomore Casey Swaney and senior Dawn Troutman were crowned Snow King and Queen. The evening ended and so did the carnival. Students prepared for the next day and for getting things back to. . .normal?

An arrangement of flags from many countries was placed outside of Oglebay Gates.

Foreign Language Day

On April 11, Bethany College hosted its annual Foreign Language Day. On this day, the college campus teemed with more than 1,200 high school and junior high students and teachers from twenty-five schools. The main feature for these students was the language competitions in the areas of creative writing, short recitations, dramatic and musical presentations, along with art and culture exhibits. In these competitions the students challenged each other for excellency in Spanish, French and German. Another feature for the students, however, was experiencing a college campus first hand; they were able to explore the various buildings on campus and see college students in action. College students also benefitted from this day. Clubs and housing units set up booths and were able to sell items such as food, drink and paraphernalia to the contestants with the hope of increasing their clubs treasuries. The campus was very alive during the festivities and everyone seemed to enjoy the change of pace.

Many of the highschool students crowded around the admissions office to get information about applying.

Trying to sell their lollipops, cookies and soda the sisters of Kappa Delta come out for a day of vending.

The welcoming sign was placed on the lawn of Old Main to extend the first welcome of the day.

Spring Weekend

All Campus Spring Weekend took place April 26-28. The festivities started with a picnic at the field house. Later in the evening, the bands The Dead Milkmen and Ocean Blue performed under the tent. On Saturday the weekend continued as yet another picnic was presented along with tons of entertainment. Palm readers and charicturists were there along with many fundraising booths. An added addition was the miniature golf course. Throughout the afternoon different comedians kept the audience laughing. Once evening came, more bands played under the tent. The weather was perfect all weekend, which contributed to making this Spring Weekend absolutely spectacular.

Women of the college community were treated to a special breakfast honoring the senior women.

May Morning

Faculty and students alike came out to enjoy this early morning treat.

The 44th annual May Morning Breakfast was presented on May 4th at 9 a.m. Highlights of the breakfast included the prayer and the toast to the seniors by Melissa LeMaster and Lisa Stanzak, respectively, both outstanding Junior Women. Background music was provided by Jeff Black and Todd Lesser on guitar. The speaker for the morning was Ann C. Preston, a graduate and a member of the Board of Trustees of Bethany College. She spoke on life's travels and changes, which included the showing of her passports of the last thirty years. She spoke of actual travels and of some of the more important moments in her domestic life. Her speech showed that every aspect of life is important and should be cherished. The final presentation of the day was the Aleece C. Gresham Leadership Award to an outstanding senior woman. This year it was presented to Jennifer Hodgdon, who has been very active on campus.

Perry Gresham Day

The newly crowned Lana Duty gets into the spirit of the day as she watches the crowd at Campbell.

For Independent members of the college community, one of the most important social events of the year is Perry Gresham Day. The day is dedicated to the former President of Bethany College. Perry Gresham Day was held on April 13th. It started early with a breakfast held at Campbell followed by the parade, in which horses and students dressed in 70's attire marched down Main Street. The 70's theme was continued at Campbell where many students remained dressed in 70's garb and listened to musical acts such as The Doors and Jimi Hendrix. Many independents remained at Campbell for the majority of the day and everyone on campus was welcome. Perry Gresham Day was a very successful and exciting social event.

Shonna Shelton receives the George K. Hauptfuehrer Award for music.

Honors Day

Miss Nicholson presents Phi Kappa Tau President Sascha Boyle with the W. Kirk Woolery Award for having the highest GPA of the male housing units.

At the Honors Day Convocation held on April 18, many individuals and groups were recognized for their achievements. Individual students were honored for their work in various majors and departments. In addition to being honored for academics, students were also recognized for their impressive leadership skills, involvement on campus and contributions to the College community. Awards were presented to the housing unit with the highest grade point averages. McDiramid received the award for the female housing unit while Phi Kappa Tau received the award for the males. All students who were honored had put tremendous amounts of time into their studies and/or activities and one could see at the convocation that they were deeply respected by their fellow peers as well as the faculty.

SPORTS

Sports at Bethany saw many shades in the past year. The soccer team's hopes of a national championship were dashed in the quarterfinals and the women's soccer team lived up to expectations, while the football team began its journey of recovery. The women's softball team captured their first PAC championship in history. All sports teams held up their end of Bethany tradition as they worked hard and gave their best to paint a picture of pride, determination and winning spirit.

Showing their support for the men's soccer team are Fred Schadt, Chris Dymkoski, and Tim Schleicher. Fans gave the teams what they needed to be successful and keep their spirits high.

Members of the men's soccer team celebrate after a victory. The soccer team gave all Bethanians a reason to be proud.

A good word and a high five are the things that freshman Tim Smiley receive from two of his fellow teammates. Teamwork was the key to success of all teams.

Freshman Kaleo Searle takes a break on the bench. Searle had thirty-one solo tackles and assisted on fifty-one others.

Freshman Chaurice Smith charges through a Grove City defender. Smith led the Bison in rushing with 480 yards.

Mark Malaonado, junior, pauses for a moment during a game. Malaonado had three interceptions for the Bison.

Football

Senior co-captain Cole Vulgamore poses for the camera. Vulgamore holds the Ray Nola Award he received for outstanding sportsmanship and leadership throughout his college football career.

Two Bethany players congratulate each other after a play as David Sharpin looks on.

The Bison gridders had eleven players named to the President's Athletic Conference All-Conference teams under the first year direction of head coach Don Turner.

First team all PAC honors went to juniors Chris Tskalines, offensive tackle, Dan Rovira, defensive tackle, and Scott Wieland, kicker.

Second team honors went to senior Doug Sharpless, strong safety and freshman Chaurice Smith, wide receiver.

The Bisons six Honorable mentions include seniors Kurt Loring, linebacker, and Cole Vulgamore, senior co-captain, tight-end, junior Mark Friga, linebacker, sophomores Erich Campbell, offensive guard, Jeff Mattis, quarterback, and freshman Dan Greene, half-back.

Vulgamore also received the Ray Nola award for sportsmanship, dedication and team leadership.

The Bison finished the season 1-7-1, 1-4 in the PAC with a lone victory over Grove City College and a tie with Duquesne University.

The Bison will lose eight seniors to graduation including Sharpless, Wieland, and co-captains Eric Yeloushan and Vulgamore.

SOCCER

The men's soccer team, ranked fifth in the nation, finished the season 2-0 in the PAC, 17-3-2 overall, had 12 all-PAC team members, went to its seventh consecutive play-off, won its twelfth consecutive PAC championship, had the PAC's Most Valuable Player and was directed by the PAC's Coach of the year.

John Cunningham extended his coaching record to 215-71-20 with the help of PAC first-team members; seniors Omar Jobe and Dave Lewis, juniors: Jon Ault, Ralph Severino, Stefano Volpini, George Williams, Tim Devlin, Alex Robson and Heiko Freitag. Second team honors went to junior Matt McLeod and sophomore Peter Veltri. Rounding out the PAC awards was freshman Mike O'Malley and Jobe who was named PAC Most Valuable Player for allowing only 12 goals in 21 games, with 96 saves and 11 shutouts.

The Bisons went all the way to the national quarterfinals, where they lost to the eventual national champion Glassboro State 4-3 on penalty kicks.

Scoring leaders for the team were Ault with 11 goals and 7 assists, Lewis 8 goals, 7 assists, and Robson with 4 goals 8 assists. Defensive standouts included Severino, Volpini, Williams, O'Malley and of course, keeper Jobe.

Junior Matt McLeod maneuvers around an opponent. McLeod had three assists for the Bisons.

Soccer

The women's soccer team got off to a troubled start in the beginning of their season. The team only won one out of seven games in the first half of their season. It was at this point that head coach Jan Forsty, in her first year of coaching, decided to move every player on the field into a new playing position. This change in technique paid off, because the women's team went on to sweep through the rest of the season.

Along with changing positions the team also changed attitudes and went on to finish the season with an overall record of 7-9-1. This season's finish gave the team a reason to be proud since it was the strongest finish of any team since Women's Soccer became a varsity sport at Bethany.

Cross Country

The Cross Country team was young, but bursting with enthusiasm for the season ahead. With a team of mostly freshmen, they set out for a long journey through their first year of college and college meets. And what a trip it was!

Their "fearless leader" Coach McGowan drove them in practice, drove them to meets, and drove them nuts with his corny jokes and sayings. The veterans lead the team with support groups, spirit rallies, a tobogan, and endless tales of cross country bike trips. Not to mention their skill and preciseness as runners. The freshmen on the team brought new spirit and new experiences along with them as well as quite a few places in the PAC's.

All in all, it made for a very interesting season with the runners running up quite a few hospital bills for their coach to remember them by after both women and men's team placed second in the PAC's. To close a successful season as quoted by Coach McGowan in his favorite quote, "We are O.O.H. -out of here!"

The spirit of teamwork and ship is evident as the women team prove that four can get the job done right.

Volleyball

Bethany Lady Bison Volleyball team finished the season with a record of 12 wins and 25 losses, while placing fourth in the PAC.

Coach Lisa Campanell-Komara remarked that this team was a young one and having only three returning players made the start of the season tough. Captain Holly Jo Sensenich, sophomore Kristen Hecker, and senior Amy Henskin were joined on the court by transfer Lorraine Ramhoff, sophomore Melanie Stumm and freshmen Pam sleeth and Heather Truitt to create the Bison starting line-up.

Players Sensenich, Ramhoff, and Sleeth were elected to the PAC's Second Team.

Although this team didn't do as well as expected, it looks as though next year they may "Just Do It."

Basketball

Under the direction of first year head coach Pat Stewart and despite the tragic death of graduate assistant Jim Lonich, the men's basketball team finished the season 7-17 overall and 2-6 in the conference.

Two players were named to the President's Athletic Conference teams. Junior Chris Geruschat was named to the second team while junior forward Albert Palsa earned honorable mention. Both men ranked nationally among the top ten three-point shooting and consistently led the Bison team with scoring percentages of 18 points per game for Geruschat and 17.5 for Palsa.

Other team leaders were senior Jeff Yourkovich and junior Lee Moffatt under the boards for rebounds, sophomore Tony Colarusso with assists and junior Todd John with steals.

Going up to foil his opposition's attempt at a basket is junior Chris Geruschat.

Looking for an open man takes a lot of concentration for Mike Vesicio.

Basketball

The women's basketball squad had three members named to President's Athletic Conference teams while finishing the season 3-5 in the PAC, 9-15 overall.

First team honors went to senior Denise Doster. While senior Lisa Wise was named to the second team and junior Shanley Reeves received honorable mention status.

Doster, who led the team in scoring and rebounding, was named a GTE District II Academic All-American as well as being the recipient of one of fourteen nationwide women's NCAA Postgraduate Scholarships.

Other stand outs for the women were; reeves, with 259 points and 114 rebounds; Wise 239 points, 88 rebounds; junior Della Trower 114 and freshman Jennifer Haggerty 147 rebounds. Junior Lori Bowersock led the team in both assists and steals with 106 and 62 respectively. Wise is Bethany's all-time top three-point shooter with a career total of 252 points behind the three-point line.

Going up for a rebound at the Hummel Field House are junior Vicky Ryser and senior Denise Doster.

Junior Lori Bowersock looks for an open teammate to pass the ball to at a home game.

Swim Team

Under the guidance and direction of head coach John McGowan, the swim team had a trying but successful year. The team had six returning letter winners and six returning starters. The men's team was lead by captain Jonathan Thayil and the 200-yard medley relay team of Gus Schnell, Thayil, John Kren, and Aaron Usiskin set a new school record at the President's Athletic Conference (PAC) championships held at Grove City College with a time of 1:47:39.

The women's team captain was Holly Marks and the team was named as one of the national All-American Teams for the third semester in a row. The men's team has received this honor twice in the past.

It is hard to believe that a team that did so well during their season is still relatively young and it is clear to see that this young team has a lot to look forward to in the coming years.

Baseball

The baseball team had a very successful season under the direction of first-year head coach Rick Carver. The men swept through the President's Athletic Conference to claim the championship title.

Seniors John Sweinberg and Erik Gast, along with junior Jay West served as tri-captains during the season.

Five players were given conference honors. Sweinberg and West were named to the first team. Anthony Colarusso, sophomore, received second team honors. Sophomore Tim Thomas and freshman Mike DiLucia were both awarded Honorable Mention status. Carver earned the title of Conference Coach of the Year.

The baseball team lost only two seniors to graduation, Sweinberg and Gast, giving this team a shot at success again next year.

A Bethany player watches carefully as his teammate bats at the plate. Teamwork was an essential key in the success.

The crowd celebrates the PAC championship with the members of the team.

The catcher prepares to throw the ball to third base to catch a stealing runner.

Members of the team take the field ready to face their next opponent in the PAC.

The team gives a little glory to their beloved bat boy, Zach Maurer.

Sophomore starters Mel Stumm and Lori Woods celebrate their PAC championship by making a sign only they can understand.

Getting ready to start game two of the double header is junior Holly Jo Sensenich.

Softball

Freshman LaDonna Tomei throws a practice pitch before she has to go into the game.

The 1991 MVP Sophomore Lori "Ickey" Woods ices an injury during a home game. Ickey experienced several injuries during the season.

After a successful season, the softball team was rewarded with top seat in the PAC. They claimed this title after completing the season with an 18-8 record. This season proved to be the best in the team's history.

Six players received All-PAC awards. Sophomore Lori Woods was named the 1991 Most Valuable Player while sophomore Lori Schimmel was recognized as Pitcher of the Year. Other first PAC team members included sophomore Mel Stumm and freshman Nicole Mazur. Senior co-captain Kim Griffith was awarded a spot on the Second Team and junior Shanley Reeves received Honorable Mention. Head Coach Jan Forsty was also named PAC Coach of the Year.

Team spirit and cooperation were the key components that made this team successful. With losing only two teammates to graduation the team should be ready to take on the conference once again.

SENIORS

From the sunny morning of fall registration to the sunny/rainy morning of Commencement, the seniors' year was filled with many shades. Each day of their last year added a color and as Homecoming, J-term, Comps and Spring Weekend passed by, a picture began to form. Commencement arrived and the finishing touches were added to that picture. And every senior carried it with them as they left the many shades of Bethany.

Senior Heather Schimmel decides to show her attitude for the camera during an early Saturday morning "camera shoot".

When Commencement arrived it was a beginning as well as an ending for the seniors.

Having spent four years at Bethany many seniors have developed an out-of-the-ordinary way to exhibit the Bison spirit,

Commencement was a time for many to share their last few moments as a part of that special group that had meant so much.

Some seniors found that the last year of the many parties was certainly the best!

Senior Bob Bowman is in shock after Commencement that his time at Bethany is over. Many seniors felt that the year flew by.

COMMENCEMENT

The sun shone brightly on Commencement morning as 166 graduates prepared to have their degrees conferred. But just as the bagpipes began playing, the beautiful sunshine gave way to an out pour of rain. Guests ran for shelter but the graduates marched proudly to take their seats. Suddenly the rain disappeared and the sun reclaimed its rightful place in the sky. The weather of the morning symbolized the bitter-sweet feelings that came with Commencement.

Joan Brown Campbell, General Secretary National Council of Churches delivered the address to the class. In her speech she advised the class to see their commencement as the beginning and the ending that it really was. She also stated that it should be remembered real life choices that make a difference are almost always considered by the professional world as unwise. After her address Campbell and King David Cole were both given the title of Doctor of Divinity. Mr. John Taylor was next as he received the award of Doctor of Humanities. The next group to receive their degrees was the graduating class.

Ella Jo Harvey was presented with the Oreon E. Scott Award for distinction in scholarship.

After the Alma Mater the graduates walked through Old Main and took the first few steps into their new lives.

Transportation was provided for friends and relatives by the college van service.

President Cummins presided over the day's ceremonies and helped to make the day memorable for each graduate.

Melissa Fix talks to her family as her father reads over her long awaited diploma.

A future Bethanian tries on the cap of her sibling with the hopes of feeling a little of that Bethany "magic".

The recessional begins and family and friends rush to capture this special moment.

Sarestelle DeLong walks to her car holding her diploma in one hand and the hand of her daughter in the other.

Guests hurry for cover as the graduates walk proudly by in the midst of a cloud burst.

The graduates stand at their seats anxiously awaiting the beginning of Commencement exercises.

HOUSING

Each housing unit had its own personality and style. Whether it was cramming for that last exam, partying until 3a.m., sharing a special moment with a few close friends or staying up for an all night "bull session", there was no way to escape it. Those many shades of individuals who live in the same place soon began to blend and turned into a colorful picture of . . . family.

Dancing the night away and looking for the perfect lei are sophomores Bonnie Campbell and Jeff Clair. Phi Tau held its annual Luau in October.

Taking a break from Christmas decorating, the women from third floor Phillips south build a pyramid in the hall. These women moved in to Phillips as strangers and left as family.

ALPHA SIGMA PHI

The brothers of Alpha Sigma Phi fraternity have managed to keep very strong ties within their house while still being very active on campus. Among the Alpha Sigma Phis are the captains of the football, soccer, basketball, lacrosse and swim teams as well as many participants on those teams. Greek Sing honors went to the Alpha Sigma Phis for the second year in a row for their enthusiastic medley of favorites, including "Old McDonald" and "The Love Boat" theme. With twenty pledges, the Alpha Sigma Phis maintain a diverse group of individuals that work together as brothers to keep up the tradition of the Hood.

Alpha Xi Delta was founded on April 17, 1893, at Lombard College in Galesville Illinois. Just ten years later, in June of 1903, the Delta chapter was founded at Bethany College.

Since that time, the Bethany chapter has enjoyed a long and rich history full of pride, fun, and love. This year was certainly no exception.

The forty-five members began the year with a bang. Several activities were planned including rush parties, t-shirt sales for philanthropy, the annual Christmas formal and Spring Weekend activities.

Alpha Xi enjoyed a special honor when they won the annual Greek Sing contest. Another exciting event was the installation of three new members during the fall.

Alpha Xi enjoyed a fun and a special year. As the founding members cheered nearly 100 years ago: rechnen sie wohl, Alpha Xi Delta! (You say well. Alpha Xi Delta!)

BETA THETA PI

The Brothers of the Beta Theta Pi fraternity, "always" made a strong impact on the campus and Bethany community. The thirty-five brothers of Beta Theta Pi are active on the football, basketball, and baseball teams. Again this year the Beta's travelled to Eastern Kentucky University and came home successful in the National Beta Theta Pi Basketball Tournament. Beta has taken on the responsibility of upkeep of Main Street in the Adopt A Highway Program. The brothers are a unique group who proudly continues the Beta Theta Pi tradition at Bethany.

With over 70 women from all different social affiliations, Campbell Hall was hectic as usual. The year started with the annual Homecoming late-night and the parties kept up through Stone-Henge Weekend and Per-Gresham Day. When there wasn't a party to conquer, the ladies of Campbell spent their nights around the hall and their afternoons napping.

Despite the standard rumors of greek/independent divisions, the largest in-house conflict was waged over whether to watch Oprah or Phil at 4:00 p.m. A winner-take-all game of Three Man seemed the perfect solution, as no one could determine who the "real" winners were, so we compromised with YO! MTV RAPS. Generally a friendly happy atmosphere prevailed as the sounds of "HELLOOOO" could be heard ringing down the halls...at hours.

DELTA TAU DELTA

The Delta Tau Delta house remained a place to have a good time in 1991. The brothers not only knew how to have a good party they also proved that their cooperation could achieve many things. The Delts put on a good show at their annual Frisbee Marathon and worked together to put paneling up in their house. Another highlight of the year was the annual Christmas formal where the brothers proved that the stuffy attire of suits and ties were cool for them. Bid Day came and the house received four notches pledges that couldn't be beat. Although this year offered challenges for the Delts, they worked together and proved that the bond of brotherhood can overcome anything.

HERITAGE

Heritage House was founded in 1986 in search of academic excellence. Today it remains the only co-ed overclassman dormitory on campus. Heritage was formed in response to the need of students who desired a quieter living atmosphere. The house took over the overflow dorm at the bottom, middle of New Parkinson. Students had mixed feelings and even before the opening, the house was labeled as "dork dorm". Some found it as ridicule while other members took pride in the term.

Since its beginning, Heritage House has held onto many traditions. Every year there is an election of new officers. Also, around Christmas time Heritage hosts a Faculty Tea.

Diversity seems to be a key word in conjunction with Heritage. It is home to both Greeks and independents, many different foreign nationalities and multiple areas of academic studies.

The Sigma Xi chapter of Kappa Delta started the year off right when they captured the Anna Ruth Bourne award for the 14th consecutive semester. Tradition prevailed in the KD house although the new sisters did manage to shake things up a bit. The sisters participated in pumpkin pals, the crush party, secret Santas, Christmas formal, the Get Na KeD party and spring weekend. Aside from these structured activities, the house participated in many a water battle and an occasional impromptu game of phone-tag.

The KD's were not only active within their house but also in every aspect of the campus. Kappa Delta's served as captains of varsity sports teams, editors of campus media publications, lead roles in theatre productions, Renner Union members, volunteer fireman, and at Bethany Memorial.

The Kappa Deltas kept the love, sisterhood, and the dream alive as they strived for the things that are honorable, beautiful, and highest.

McDIARMID

McDiarmid is a self-governing, independent women's dorm. Twenty-three women lived in the house this year with different interests and ideas. These different people came together to form a family in the end. They enjoy spending time together out on the balcony, sunning and listening to music. Joining in with other members on the hill for block parties, cookouts, and mixers. The women of McDiarmid had their annual pre-Homecoming party and Christmas formal.

Living at McDiarmid was like a second, very large family. The McDiarmid House offered a great alternative for independent women.

PHI MU

The Phi Mu bond grew strong in 1991. We had a busy year! The fall started out with two Phi Mu sisters on the incoming Court and a haunted house for charity with Alpha Sigma Phi which raised over $1,000. Second semester brought a cheering contest victory and twenty pledges. Five sisters travelled abroad to three countries. Phi Mu was proud of its two senior fellows, Panhellenic President, Directors of TV3 and WVBC, Vice President of SONG, two RA's, Admission Office Intern, Editor of the Lawer, Barn Manager, and active drama participants.

PHI KAPPA TAU

Phi Kappa Tau is a fraternity that prides itself on diversity. The brothers of the Phi chapter excelled in many different majors and participated in a wide range of campus activities. The seriousness with which Phi Tau's took their collegiate career was reflected in the fact that they won the Woolery Cup fall semester with a GPA of 2.91 and took the Beta A intramural football team to the championship final.

Phi Tau has always shown that the brotherhood knows how to party as well as keep up its grades. The all-campus Luau party hosted with Zeta was a smashing success, as most of the student body took part in a night of pig-roasting, dancing and exchanging "leighs."

Phi Kappa Tau continues to be a central force in the college community and a bastion of true brotherhood. Bethany.

SIGMA NU

With membership hovering at seventy the Sigma Nu Epsilon Chapter continues its rich tradition of fostering an active, diverse and devoted brotherhood. Sigma Nu's involvement is evident in every aspect of the college community, whether it be in the SBOG presidency and cabinet, the Tower, WVBC, and the football, basketball, soccer and swim teams.

In the fall the chapter picked up three pledges and fared well in spring rush, as twenty-one quality young men joined the ranks of Sigma Nu.

Life on Fair St. remains upbeat and social with Fall Formal, Brawl, Christmas Formal, White Rose, mixers and impulsive late nights. Furthermore, volleyball in the pit, barbecuing on the porch and football on the lawn continue to keep the brothers close, amused and content.

The Theta Chapter of Zeta Tau Alpha played a very active role in Bethany's leadership, scholarship, athletics, and social events. Members were active in SBOG, A's, and were club presidents and members of honoraries. Zeta's involvement in TV3 included producing, directing, and anchoring, they were also involved in announcing on WVBC and photography at the Tower. National winners, Dean's list and the Freshman Leadership Award Winner were also Zeta members. Sports involvement for the Zeta's included student trainers, varsity soccer, swim team, cross-country, track and field, women's lacrosse and victor's of the intramural volleyball tournament.

ZTA supports Association for Retarded Citizens, the annual blood drive, clothes for local children, and involvement with the Special Olympics field day. Highlights of Zeta's social calendar included the mock wedding with Alpha Sigma Phi, Christmas Formal, Fall Fling and having a successful bid night and pledge class.

Yet another housing unit on campus is the beloved President's house. President Cummins resides there with his wife Suzi.

FACULTY

Faculty at Bethany has many aspects to it that cannot be found on any other college campus anywhere. They are not just our professors or people that work at the college; they're a part of our lives. Whether it be when they are advising a club, having a class in their home, or just taking time to really get to know the students, faculty at Bethany is one of a kind.

Floryne Williams answers a student's question with a smile while working in the Student Services Office.

Mr. Giesmann brings his son to the office and James Keegan is a newcomer to Dear Ol' Bethany. Having been here only a year and during that year he emerged himself into the Communications Department. He devotes much of his time to being head of the department. He and his wife moved to Bethany from Britain, while their two sons remain in London and their daughter in France. Dr. Keegan has received degrees from the Universities of Bristol, Leeds, Bradford, and Lancaster. When not learning about life in Bethany, Keegan enjoys visiting Wheeling for a symphony or a Country Music Jamboree. He is intrigued by the continuance of Bethany tradition and is happy to have become a part of it.

ACTIVITIES

Although Bethany is located on a lonely hill there is always something to do. If there isn't something for you to do you can always create your own activity. These clubs/organizations are as diverse as the students themselves. The activities come together and help make Bethany a colorful world for everyone.

Sophomore Gerry Burket helps direct traffic at Commencement. Burket served on security this year.

The Bethany College Choir perform at their annual spring concert in Commencement.

It takes a lot of work to put together a yearbook and editor Diann Devart gets through this day with a little help from staffer Cindy Roush.

Jonathan Hodges and Sascha Boyle discuss FC business on the way to one of their classes.

Panhel sponsored a Trim-a-Tree party for all freshmen women in December to help decorate the cafe.

On June 23, 1846 at a meeting of the members of the 146 graduating class for the purpose of forming a Bethany College Alumni Society, the members unanimously adopted a Constitution, and set in motion a noble alumni association which exists to this day.

The 1991 Bethany College Alumni Association represents 10,000 alumni graduates and former students. It is governed by the Alumni Council, a board of directors comprised of alumni and students which meets five times annually.

The purposes of the Association are to promote the charitable, educational, and scientific interests of both the College and the alumni membership. Four standing committees of the Alumni Council are assigned specific program responsibilities which seek to implement these basic objectives.

Each fall the Association promotes Homecoming which includes the 20th, 15th, 10th, and 5th year class reunions. In May at Alumni Weekend, the Association recognizes outstanding achievement and service by distinguished alumni and faculty; also the 50th, 40th, 30th, and 25th class reunions are held at this time.

Alumni also serve the college as volunteers assisting in student recruitment and as career development references. Over 250 B.I.S.O.N.S.-Bethanians In Search of New Students- and over 300 Career Resource alumni volunteers serve in these programs.

All students and alumni are urged to keep in touch with the Alumni Office to maintain current address information to assure they continue to receive their alumni magazine and mail.
